ATLANTIC CHALLENGE COMMUNITY SAILING REFUND/DISMISSAL POLICY

Atlantic Challenge's refund/dismissal policy is based on our investment in staff, training, program planning. Program expenses cannot be recovered if students cancel or are excused from the program.

REFUNDS

All programs fill on a first-come-first-served basis. Unless an entire program is canceled by AC or if a student is put on a waiting list and does not get enrolled in a class, NO REFUNDS are given once the first class begins. Cancellations often prevent others from attending our programs. Situations such as weather, student health/interest, schedule conflicts, and a myriad of other situations are beyond our control; please do not ask us to change our refund policy for your circumstance.

Full payment for a program guarantees enrollment within the first-come-first-served system. Enrollment deposits will hold a class position until the class is full (paid students.) Enrollment deposits are also non-refundable.

DEFERALL

Once you have been accepted into a program, you may defer one time to a later program without any additional expense, as long as the transfer is made at least 30 days prior to your original program start date.

DISMISSAL

When a participant begins his or her program at Atlantic Challenge, we make a commitment to help him/her succeed to the greatest extent possible. AC does, however, reserve the right to dismiss a participant if he/she is demonstrating behavior that is detrimental to himself/herself or to the larger community. No student may, by his/her actions, put other students at risk, deter from the learning and progression of others, or compromise the integrity of the AC program or its facilities. Examples of misconduct that will not be tolerated include but are not limited to: stealing, violation of Maine State or Federal law, harassment, violence of any kind, or outrageous disrespect to any members of the AC community. The Atlantic Challenge staff reserve the right to judge when misconduct has reached the stage where it can no longer be dealt with in our program.

IMPORTANT

Atlantic Challenge cannot make exceptions to these policies for any reason including personal emergencies or illness. After the course starts, if you withdraw or if you are dismissed from the program you will not receive a refund.
